Cured by Gold Injections.
The very latest post-war discovery is the curing of certain ailments by means of injections of diluted gold. This very expensive method of restoring lost health was discovered by a French doctor, who has completely cured a wealthy Parisian of a complaint similar to shell shock. Although gold is very scarce at present a limited supply is available for medicinal purposes. The price for one injection is $100.00. The quality of gold used in one or two injections cures gold injections in less than a hundred pounds each. Consequently, only very rich persons can at present undergo this gold treatment, which has been successful in rescuing several cases of complete nervous breakdown. It should be remembered, however, that the gold itself is of no great value as a tonic. The idea in making the injections is to liven up the patient and prevent him or her from brooding too seriously. This done, doctors believe that half the battle is won. Strange to say, the injections are not made through the usual type of syringe, but generally through a conical-shaped tube of pure platinum costing over twelve hundred dollars.

Money.
After having studied the careers of many of our richest men, and after having obtained from many of them an outpouring of their inmost thoughts, my conclusion about money is this, says a writer in Forbes Magazine:

"Money is a very desirable thing, even a lot of it. Its possession enables one to do a great many things which are impossible if one lacks it. There is no such potent material instrument for enabling one to do worthy deeds in large numbers and on a large scale. Money, indeed, is so desirable, so useful, so rich in possibilities for worthy accomplishment, that one should exercise every honorable effort to acquire every dollar of it that one can earn, but there is not enough money in the world to compensate one for turning even one sharp corner, for never have I known an instance of ill-gotten money to have yielded true happiness to possessor and his offspring."

Bird Protection Important.
Preserving birds as game is only one part of the duty of the government. They are even more valuable as enemies of noxious weeds and insects. They are the farmer's best friends, though he is too often oblivious of the fact, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. Those who care nothing for their beauty of plumage and song must recognize the circumstance. Yet the birds have been too long the prey of their human hunters. Some species have been well-nigh exterminated in consequence. To protect them in the United States and Canada will accomplish much, though to make the protection of many of the migrants complete Mexico and Central American countries should join in the work.

CONDITIONS NOW AND IN 1865

According to General Sherman's Memoirs, History Seems to Be Merely Repeating Itself.

A single page in the story of the Civil war, the Memoirs of General Sherman, carries observations by two Ohio men prominent in that war, General Sherman himself and Secretary of War Stanton, that have a strangely familiar sound now amid the distressing conditions that have followed the World war here.

General Sherman has arrived with his story at the opening of the year 1865, and he is dealing with the closing events of the Civil war. He is at Savannah and the secretary of war is there, partly on an official visit and partly for recreation. The policy of enlisting slaves is under discussion and the order giving the freed slaves the right to occupy seized lands is agreed on.

"He professed to have come from Washington for rest and recreation," writes General Sherman, "and he spoke unreservedly of the blackings and jealousies at the national capital, of the interminable quarrels of the state governors about their quotas and more particularly of the very existence of the government itself.

"He said that the price of everything had so risen in comparison with the depreciated money that there was danger of national bankruptcy, and he appealed to me, as a soldier and patriot, to hurry up matters so as to bring the war to a close.

"I was quite impatient to get off myself, for city life had become dull and tame, and we were all anxious to get into the pine woods again, free from the importunities of Southern women asking for protection, and of civilians from the North who were coming to Savannah for cotton and all sorts of profit."

High prices, weariness of the war conditions, eagerness on all sides for the return of peace, swarms of people at Washington—official and private citizens, with axes to grind, and speculators from the North pushing right down to the hostile lines in promoting their profiteering enterprises. But we came through it.—Columbus Dispatch.

A big-scale road test on 3,200 tubes

How Firestone puts the miles in — and then proves it—not at YOUR expense.

No other tubes in the world are road tested on so big a scale as Firestones. The Yellow Cab Company of Chicago uses Firestone Tubes exclusively on its 800 taxi cabs. The service of these tubes is checked constantly — improvements and developments are arrived at.

By close watching of a large number of tubes in service—not confined to isolated instances, the conclusions are accurate and definite.

Firestone puts the best in materials into tubes by establishing purchasing experts at Singapore, center of the world's rubber market. Firestone puts the best in workmanship into tubes by organizing the crack manufacturing organization of the industry on a profit-sharing basis.

And then subjects the finished product to this big-scale road test—in order to get you more for your tube money and more miles out of your tires. And yet Firestone Tubes cost no more than the ordinary kind.

HOUSEWIVES' BELIEFS

It is unlucky to toast bread on a knife.

To throw bread away means want some day.

Give bread in charity and it will bring prosperity.

Throwing bread away is to ignore the virtue of charity.

Eat bread that another has bitten and you will quarrel.

You will get a letter if you accidentally drop bread in a cup of tea.

If you wish to be wealthy, cut a loaf of bread evenly, says Dame Superstition.

If a glass of any kind falls and does not break great success awaits you.

Or, if you let a piece of bread fall out of your hand, some one is coming to beg.

To get your sheets on the bed wrong side out is a sign of a change of residence.

The one who eats the crusts of bread is the one who will get all the kisses.

Never drink out of a glass that has a spoon in it, or you are doomed to be an old maid.

Never give away the first slice of bread you cut off a loaf or you will give your luck away.

If a young matron bakes bread and it runs over the sides it is a sign she will have a houseful of children.

Speak unkindly or profanely with bread in your hand and you will be sore troubled before it is digested.

When two persons are folding a sheet let them wish, and if the last fold comes out even they will get their wish.

If you find a whole grain of wheat in a loaf of bread, and put it over the door, the name of the first who enters will be that of your sweetheart.

Because the Lord ate bread at the last supper there are many interpretations of its observance as a sacred food. The act of eating bread with the head uncovered was considered most disrespectful to God.

Seal Herds Increasing.
The protective measure adopted by the government for the benefit of the seals in our waters has been entirely successful, as indicated by the great number of animals seen to be migrating to the Arctic sea. The migration was three weeks earlier than usual, and an unusually large amount of animals were noted on their way to the north.
